RAIDERS BURN SUPPLIES

Police Sack Town After Two Constables Killed

CORK.—(By United Press)—Military authorities were in control here Tuesday, following riots in which numerous soldiers and civilians were wounded. At least three persons were killed. Troops cordoned the city and patrolled all streets to prevent a recurrence of the troubles.

Altogether the blowing up of two motor lorries, in which between 60 and 70 soldiers were injured, was attributed to demobilized soldiers, it developed Tuesday that many Sinn Feiners were connected with the outrages.

Fifty armed men overpowered 14 soldiers who were guarding stores when the railway workers had refused to handle them. The stores were loaded on trucks. The raiders forced the guards to climb into an empty wagon after which they set fire to the supplies. This incident occurred within 200 yards of the military barracks.

Military authorities announced that a curfew would become effective Tuesday night at 10 o'clock. No person will be allowed on the streets between that hour and three a.m. Wednesday morning. This order will remain in force until all the trouble has subsided.

LONDON.—Two constables were shot dead near Tuam, 19 miles from Galway, after which police sacked the town, setting fire to houses and burning the town hall, according to a news dispatch from Dublin Tuesday.

U. S. MARINES ON PEKING LINE

Seek to Reopen Traffic on Tsin Railway

PEKING.—(By Associated Press)—A train carrying 10 marines and several American, British and Japanese officers left Tuesday for the contested section of the Peking-Tien-Tsin railway. The military men will endeavor to assist the department of communications in re-opening traffic on the line, which is still interrupted between Yangtun and Lofa.

On the way the train will pick up the British inspector of communications. The break in the line which caused much confusion and congestion is said to have been originally caused by the flight of the station master.

There is little change in the military situation outside Peking, but the city itself was more quiet than it has been since the outbreak of fighting between the Anfu and Chih factions.

FIELD ABANDONED

Dayton to Lose Great U. S. Airplane Station

WASHINGTON.—(By United Press)—McCook Field, comprising the important army aviation experimental station and flying field, must be moved from Dayton, Ohio, Major General Charles T. Menoher, director of the army air service, said Tuesday.

The site of the McCook Field is under lease by the war department and the owners are said to be unwilling to renew the lease after it expires in December, 1921. Preparations soon are to be made to move McCook Field.

FOOD COST SOARS

Shows Steady Increase During Month of June

WASHINGTON.—(By Associated Press)—Retail food prices continue to show a steady increase according to a survey of the food budget of the average family for June, made public by the bureau of statistics of the department of labor. An advance of 2 per cent was noted on June 15 over prices in the same day the month before. This was an increase of 3 per cent since the first of the year.

WIFE SLAYER TO OFFER DEFENSE AT TRIAL

CHICAGO—Carl Wanderer, self-confessed murderer of his wife and a stranger on whom he sought to cast the blame, announced today that he had changed his mind and would offer a defense when his case comes to trial Thursday. He had previously declared he wished the trial and his execution hastened.

When he appeared before Judge Robert Crowe in criminal court yesterday he said he had no lawyer and the court assigned counsel, deferring further proceedings until Thursday.

Several Cabinet Members to Resign At Constantinople

SOVIETS REJECT TERMS

Moscow Says British Plan Unjust Even to Poland

PARIS.—(By United Press)—The Turkish cabinet has decided to sign the peace treaty, according to a dispatch from Constantinople Tuesday. Damad Ferid Pasha, Turkish grand vizier, will leave for Paris Tuesday for this purpose, it was stated.

CABINET IS RESIGNED

CONSTANTINOPLE.—(By Associated Press)—The Sheik-Ul-Islam in the Turkish cabinet, Durrusid:

Abdullah Effendi has resigned his office because of his unwillingness to approve the signing of the peace treaty. Other cabinet resignations are expected for the same reason.

The Grand Vizier, Damad Ferid Pasha, however, is apparently determined to sign at any cost.

S. AVIATOR MISSING

WARSAW.—(By Associated Press)—Another American aviator serving with the Kosciusko squadron is missing. Captain Arthur Kelly of Richmond, Va., a pilot started on a flight over the Bolshevik lines five days ago and nothing has been heard of him since.

No trace has yet been received as to the whereabouts of Captain Merritt Cooper of Jacksonville, Fla., who has been missing since he started a flight July 13.

SOVIETS REJECT ARMISTICE

LONDON.—(By United Press)—Publication of the text of the soviet government's reply to Great Britain which was understood to be a practical rejection of the offer of an armistice with Poland was awaited Tuesday, following a lengthy meeting of the British cabinet at which the note of the Moscow government was discussed.

It was understood that Bolsheviks declined to hold a conference in London on the plea that England was not a disinterested party. They also objected to representation of the Baltic states on the ground that the peace with these states had already been effected.

The reply stated, in regard to the armistice line fixed by England, that this line was unjust to Poland and declared if Poland would negotiate directly with the Moscow government, the soviets would grant a much more favorable Polish frontier.

It was understood the reply refused to accept the British conditions in regard to General Wrangel, anti-Bolshevik leader in south Russia.

The cabinet was expected to continue consideration of the reply at a meeting Tuesday.

RESOLUTE AND SHAMROCK RESUME THE CUP CONTEST

SANDY HOOK, N. J.—(By Associated Press)—Sir Thomas Lipson's challenger Shamrock IV, sailed over the starting line ahead of the American defender Resolute in today's race for the America's cup and breezed away on the first ten mile race of a 30 mile irregular course, a reach out to sea.

Both Resolute was second across the line, the balloon on the Irish sloop would not break out and was hauled partly down.

Five minutes after the start Resolute had nearly caught Shamrock. Altschul was recently granted a leave of absence for six months to go to California.

AGAINST TOBACCO

DENVER, Colo.—Colorado's delegates to the national Prohibition convention will carry a plank calling for prohibition of the manufacture and sale of tobacco products, it was decided at the state convention here last night. No state ticket will be put in the field.

Resolute and Shamrock Resume the Cup Contest

SANDY HOOK, N. J.—(By Associated Press)—Sir Thomas Lipson's challenger Shamrock IV, sailed over the starting line ahead of the American defender Resolute in today's race for the America's cup and breezed away on the first ten mile race of a 30 mile irregular course, a reach out to sea.

PILOTAGE LOSS $200,000.

CLEVELAND, O.—An estimated loss of $300,000 was entailed by a fire which swept the Chafer building on Champlain street in the downtown section, according to figures of plant owners in the building.

The starting signal was blown at 12:15.

EMPLOYERS DON'T WANT "GEOGETTE" GIRLS

One of the most important pieces of advice given to girls and young women who register for positions at the Lima Women's Employment Bureau is that "Thin dresses get plenty of admirers, but no jobs." A man does not like a foolish fritter girl about his office," according to Mrs. Julia Simpson who is employment secretary, and comes in touch with secretaries weekly.

The man may like to go out with a "georgette" girl after business hours, but during the day he wants to think about business. Thin georgette blouses and the like are not businesslike, and not appropriate in a business office."

Another reminder for girls who wish to enter business life, is that they be always careful of neat appearance. One young woman, who was capable in every way, lost a splendid position in a large Lima concern last week because of the run down heels on her slippers. This was verified by Mrs. Simpson after she had a talk with the prospective employer, who granted that the young woman was efficient in every way, but lacked care in her personal appearance.

The subject of appropriate dress for business girls is being given careful attention and study by the Y. W. Association, as it is believed that suitable dress is a large factor in the success or failure of women in the business world.

Increase in Wages for Railroad Workers Announced by the United States Labor Board

Two Million Employees Affected—Unions May Take Referendum on General Strike Question

CHICAGO.—(By Associated Press)—Six hundred million dollars was added to the pay envelopes of the nation's two million railroad workers Tuesday in the first award handed down by the United States railway labor board.

Rejecting the demands of the organized rail unions for increases totaling approximately one billion dollars, the board decided approximately sixty per cent of that sum would be a just increase to meet present living conditions.

The award adds approximately 21 per cent to the present pay schedules. Railroads officials have declared that any pay increase awarded the men must be followed by a corresponding increase in rates, and they plan, it is said, to file new tariffs with the Interstate commerce commission as soon as they can be prepared.

QUESTION GENERAL STRIKE TO BE DETERMINED BY UNIONS

Whether the award as given will stave off the threat of a general railroad strike remains to be seen. The leaders of practically every one of the sixteen big unions were present when Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the board, handed down the decision. They left immediately to present the award to one thousand general chairmen, who had gathered here to pass on its acceptability.

The union presidents refused to make any comment before the meeting. The approximate terms of the decision had been known to them Monday and they believed then their men would stay in line, at least until a referendum vote can be taken. Nearly a month will be needed for the referendum.

The board's decision is retroactive to May 1. As the maximum increase granted any class was 18 cents an hour, or $3.72 per month, the biggest pay check due when the back pay settlement is made August 1, will be for $110.16. Engineers, firemen and helpers in the yard service will receive this amount.

The board provides that the back pay checks shall be made out separately so that each man will know the amount he received from that source.

INCREASES GRANTED CLERKS AND OTHER RAIL EMPLOYEES

CHICAGO.—(By United Press)—The United States railway labor board Tuesday announced wage increases totaling almost $600,000,000 annually for 1,894,287 employees of the roads.

Clerical and station forces were given hourly wage increase. Storekeeper and their helpers and clerks with more than one year experience were given increases of 18 cents per hour. Clerks of less experience were awarded 6 1/2 cents increase. Train callers, gatekeepers, assistant station masters and parcel room employees were given a 13-cent increase.

Janitors, elevator operators, switchboard operators and those in like work were awarded a ten-cent increase.

Office boys and those doing similar work, were given five cents.

Freight truckers, dock men, stock room employees and station, platform and warehouse men were awarded 12 cents.

All common labor in and around stations and warehouses not otherwise provided for were awarded an eight and a half cent increase.

Workers in the maintenance of way and structures were given hourly increase.

Foremen and assistant foremen were awarded 15 cent increase.

Mechanics, except those affected by the agreement with the union, a 15-cent increase. Mechanics' helpers, laborers, drawbridge tenders, pumpers, engineers, crossing watchmen and flagmen were given eight and one-half cent raise.

INCREASE FOR LABORERS

Laborers in round houses and shops such as wipers, fire bokers, etc., obtained a ten-cent increase.

Shop employees, including supervisory employees, machinists, boiler makers, and all classes of skilled labor and their helpers and apprentices were awarded a 13-cent increase. Car cleaners were given five cents.

CHICAGO—Jack Johnson, fugitive pugilist reported arrested Tuesday in California, will be turned over to the United States marshal on his arrival in Chicago to be taken immediately to Fort Leavenworth prison, it was declared at the office of District Attorney Charles F. Clegg Tuesday.

"There is nothing to do with Johnson except to send him to Leavenworth," said James A. Miller, assistant district attorney. "He has been sentenced and the decision was affirmed in the circuit court of appeals."

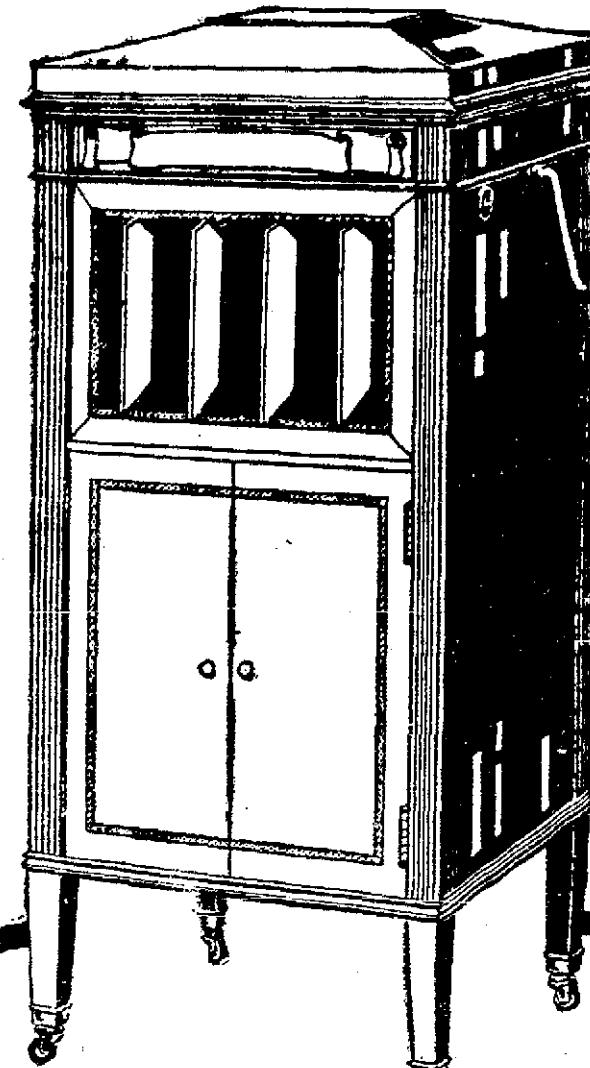

Altogether, 15-cent advances were given to telegraphers and telephone men except as otherwise provided for, agent telegraphers and tower men, tower and train directors, block operators and staff men, were advanced 10 cents per hour. Agents at non-telegraph stations were raised five cents per hour.

Stationery engineer, firemen and their helpers, were raised 18 cents; boiler room water

The employees who may believe those rates too low should consider the increased burden these rates will place on their fellow countrymen, many of whom are less favorably situated than themselves."*An effort was made the statement said, to arrive at an increase sufficient to provide "a decent living and secure for the children of the wage earners opportunity for education" without showing "preference" for any class because the "great mass of people must ultimately pay a great part of an increased cost of operation entailed by the increase in wages."*If railroad labor will render "the best service of which it is capable" the board declares, "the American people will receive benefits far outweighing the cost of the increases."*The board asks in making the award that it serve as an inspiration to workers to attempt better service to the public and a spirit of co-operation. This will result in economies of material and labor and solution in transportation difficulties. It was said, "The public deserves and has a right to expect this spirit," the board members declared.*TIGER EMPLOYEES PICNIC

Eleven states are being spanned. Throughout the journey a careful and constantly checked tally is being kept of the oil and gasoline used to determine a national measure of economy and stamina for the light-weight motor car. An average of 32 miles per gallon was made between Mansfield and Lima.*For this annual cross-country demonstration, a stock Overland on Triplex Springs is being used. W. D. Stewart, manager of the New York branch of Willys Overland, started the car on its westward way.*Observers are trailing the standard setting Overland in another car.*The Overland is being relayed across the United States, a different driver taking the wheel in each Overland distributor's territory traversed.*This relay driving is a new fea-*ture in automobile runs. The territory of at least 25 Overland distributors is being crossed. This will provide at least 25 different drivers for the car. None of these men have ever before sat at the wheel of this Overland. No two men drive alike. The importance of the test, therefore, will be a demonstration of what the average driver could expect to get in low-cost operation in a 3,300 mile drive, taking him through all conditions of weather and over roads that vary from the asphalt of city streets to treacherous mountain trails.*The highly-skilled and expert contest driver's ability to get an extra mile from the last drops of gasoline will be replaced in this run by the common fortunes of the average motorist, George E. Bayly and Clarence Ticknor of the Lima Overland Company went to Mansfield last night to bring the car to Lima. The car arrived in Mansfield on schedule time and was there turned over to the Lima men who brought it to Lima, arriving at 7:15, nearly an hour ahead of the schedule.*The Overland run is expected to answer several questions of immediate interest to the auto public. First: How much gas will be needed to carry this car in a run almost equal to a year's usage by the average driver? Second: How much oil will be needed properly to lubricate the mechanism and keep it, as far as lubrication can, trouble-free? Third: Isn't it true that the light car has now been so designed and perfected that it is not only ideal for quick handling and economical use in the tangled city traffic, but that it also has all the stamina necessary for the roughest trans-continental travel with no sacrifice of its economy advantages?*Since Lima is the nearest point on the Lincoln Highway route to the Overland factory in Toledo, several factory officials came to Lima last evening to await the arrival of the Coast to Coast Economy Car. Among these men were W. R. McCullum, chief of sales engineering and inspection for the Willys Overland company and E. E. The general committee of the City Federation of Women's clubs met Tuesday afternoon at the Public Library with representatives from fifteen clubs in attendance. The recent milk show at the Memorial Hall put on by the Home Economic department, Miss Pauline Hyman, chairman, cleared $76.75. There was the sum of $17.50 to be turned over to each of the following organizations: the Day Nursery, Mrs. Pringle Baxter president; The Child Welfare Association, Dr. Josephine Pierce, president; Central High school Welfare Association, Elsie Williams, president; South High school Girls' Welfare Club, Thelma McKinnon, president. The money is to be used to help buy milk for children who are needful.

The Tidewater Congress at Detroit, Mich., this week was discussed and it was decided by the committee to send their president, Mrs. Luah M. Butler as delegate. Mrs. Ira Longsworth will represent the Women's Music club.

Mrs. H. H. Starrett, chairman of the Park committee, a sub-committee of the Art department, gave an interesting report of the work done in the past four months toward beautifying Faurot Park. Subscriptions amounting to one thousand dollars were secured from citizens, of which seven hundred and ninety dollars has been paid in. The landscape gardener and assistants have been paid for the work up to the present time and never in the history of the City Park has it been more beautiful with the beds of constantly blooming plants, the flower bordered paths and vine-covered bridge. The committee gave Mrs. Starrett a vote of thanks for her untiring efforts. She also reported that in October shrubs and hardy plants are to be placed about the Park grounds to become a large part of the adornments in years to come and that a tablet bearing the donor's name had been placed in a conspicuous position on the west side of the shelter house.

A wonderful outgrowth of this movement to beautify the city is a much needed Bridle path, which is to be made on the part of the Park that is east of Charles-st and at present used as a dumping ground. Flowers will border this and roses have already been placed along the protection fence where the street curves into Lakewood-ave.

The Library committee, Mrs. E. B. Taylor, chairman, reported that more books were constantly being added by the citizens and that another one hundred dollars worth put out the first of the month were nearly all in circulation at the Public Library.

Miss Velma Ransbottom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ransbottom, W. Elm-st, became the bride of Miller Howell, son of Grant Howell, Wapakoneta, Monday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal church, Wapakoneta.

Mrs. Ruby Wentz presiding at the organ announced the arrival of the bridal party with the soft strains of "Humoresque" by Antonio Dvorak. Mrs. Michael Kautner sang "O Promisse Mo'" preceding the ceremony which was read by Rev. Motter. Then the bridal party heralded by little Donna Wentz carrying a lily in which was concealed the ring, entered the church while Miss Wentz played Lohengrin's wedding march.

Miss Ruth Howell was the maid of honor and the bridegroom was attended by an intimate friend, John Kohl.

The bride was attired in a gown of white georgette with a veil of tulle caught with a band of pearls. She carried a sheaf of bride's roses. Miss Howell wore pale blue organdie and carried pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of Albert Howell.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell will make their home in Wapakoneta.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Milbaugh, 959 S. Main-st, are announcing the birth of a daughter Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Iona Gelsol, W. Haller-st, is spending the remainder of the week at Lakeview.

The members of the Columbus Grove club surprised Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Thompson, S. Cole-st, on Tuesday evening at their home. The evening was spent socially with cards and music and at a late hour delicious refreshments were served. The club members presented the couple with a lovely gift.

Guests included Mabel Roemer, Miss Ruth Werline, Mrs. Ross Mullin, Mrs. L. Hobart, Mrs. H. E. Wheeler, Mrs. Edward Wingate, Mrs. Grubbin, Mrs. Gale Dunifon, Mrs. Kleuter and Miss Olive Bogart.

William Stolzenbach, Canton, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Stolzenbach, W. Market-st.

Paul Ireland, Youngstown, is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Ireland, W. Market-st, convalescing from a serious illness.

Misses Mary and Helen Longsworth, Lakewood-ave, and their uncle, leave on Thursday for a Lake trip.

Miss Halie Hutchinson, formerly of this city, who now holds an important position at the Presbyterian hospital in New York City, is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Thomas Greenland, S. Jameson-ave. She will also visit with her uncle, N. W. Cunningham at Bluffton before returning to New York.

Mrs. Ralph Kemmer has returned from Chicago, where she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Harold Benington.

For pleasure of Miss Agnes Osenbaugh, Ranger, Texas, and Miss Dorothy Weeks, Red Key, Ind., Miss Ruth Barr, W. High-st, informally entertained at her home on Tuesday evening.

CARD OF THANKS

For the many acts of kindness and sympathy and the beautiful floral tributes during our sorrow at the loss of my dear husband Glenn O. Guss, I wish to most sincerely thank our friends. I especially thank Rev. Stiles and the singers for their words of song and comfort; also Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Elles and nurses of the tuberculosis hospital, Protective Home Circle, Garfield Motor Truck Co., A. I. U. Loyalty Order of the Moose and Macleans' Union.

WIFE OF GOV. COX AVOIDS POLITICS:
CARE OF HIM AND BABY HER JOB

DAYTON, O.—(Special)—"I am neither suffragist nor anti-suffragist; I am the governor's wife. Taking care of him and little Ann, our lady of seven months, is about all I have time to think of or care about."

The words are those of Mrs. James M. Cox, wife of the Democratic presidential nominee, uttered at the beautiful Cox home near Dayton.

"When I read the Republican papers I cannot see that my husband can win the election," continued Mrs. Cox. "But when I read the Democratic ones, I am convinced that he will win."

Mrs. James M. Cox and baby Ann, photographed since Governor Cox's nomination.

that he cannot lose. Sometimes I see things that are not quite clear to me, and then I ask my husband about them. His answers are always glittering generalities, but they suffice my needs.

"For ourselves, I am making no plans at all; these are all in my husband's hands. Every August we have been accustomed to go to Brevoort Lake, in northern Michigan, for about three weeks, but I fear we shall not be able to go this year.

"It is a pity for one reason at least. It will interfere with my husband's annual demonstration of his cooking abilities. Oh, yes, he is very proud of his culinary skill. He always does the cooking when we go into the wilds where our shack is. And I for one, am delighted with it."

One admission Mrs. Cox makes is that she has been "spoiled" and that it delights her.

"You see, I am the only daughter in a family of boys," she explained. "All my brothers spoiled me terribly, and now that I am married, my husband continues it quite shamelessly. He is always so gentle and courtly with me that it's like a honeymoon even now, all save golf and bridge, and I can beat him at the latter."

ADVANCE MODELS SHOW FALL
COATS NOT ON THE LEVEL

New York.—Winter coats are now on display in many Fifth-avenue shops, and altho few women are buying them, borders of femininity besiege the clerks to show these winter models, in order that they may know how far behind the times their 1924 model is.

The models upon exhibition show four distinct types of winter wraps, altho all the new season coats are marked by looseness and general freedom.

REDDINGOTE RETURNS TO POPULARITY

The Reddingote seems to be leading in popularity. This is a full-length model with a semi-fitted back, straight and full front, with cordings, silken or smocking at the normal waistline.

The Reddingote may have a fitted sleeve or the loose kimono sleeve, and it is the latter that is most frequently seen.

Then there is the flared or barrel-skirted coat, the coat cut circular like a cape, with full, straight back and front, and belt at low waistline, and the sackcoat loche beltless, and perfectly straight from shoulder to hem.

Really elaborate for trimmings do not abound. Coat dealers explain that the furriers bought up all the fur, and that little was left for trimming in the ready made realm. Bandings and collars of rabbit, black goats' hair, caracul, Persian lamb and pile fabrics of plush are used as trimmings.

WRAPS SHOW
ORIENTAL TREND

A strange feature of the new wraps is the combination of color and material. A gray and black wool velvet is heavily embroidered with gay designs in wool or metallic threads. Braid is copiously used in swirling, intricate designs. Collars are almost as diversified as the wraps themselves, altho preference is shown the extremely high directoire collar. Shawl and funnel collars are shown on a few models.

MATCH HAT BRIMS

Most of the winter wraps are skirt length altho some seven-eighth length models are shown. Wraps line.

W. R. McCullough and E. E. McClellan, both connected with the Overland factory at Toledo, were in Lima to witness the arrival and departure of the car.

The complete run will take the car 3,300 miles and it is hoped will demonstrate the practicability of lighter automobiles. Economy in the use of gasoline is being striven for.

FATHER IS SUED

Father Brings Action to Get Pay
For Children's Care

Action to collect money for care of her two sons from their father after abandonment was filed in common pleas court, when Mrs. Olive M.
Boyd sued John A. Earl, Detroit, for $3,474.

As the wife of Earl, she charges
he abandoned her and their two sons on June 3, 1901, and that it was not until recently she learned of his whereabouts.

She was granted a divorce on June 4, 1900, and is now the wife of Samuel R. Boyd and resides at 141 College Ave., Lima. Mrs. Boyd sets the charges for care, maintenance, housing, board, lodging, clothing nursing and education of the children until the decree was granted at $620.

She also asks $964 for such care from the time she was granted a divorce until each reached 18.

CITY EMPLOYEES TO GET GENERAL TEN PER CENT INCREASE IN SALARY

Lima city employees will receive an increase in salary approximating ten percent of their present salary as a result of action of the city council
Monday night.

By a unanimous vote of the council the city solicitor was instructed to prepare the necessary legislation for the increase. A special meeting of council will probably be called to pass the legislation, city officials said Tuesday.

HEAVY FINE AND SENTENCE IMPOSED FOR DRUNKENNESS

Harry Raymond, 42, 314 E.
Wayne-st was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in the Toledo workhouse by Judge Emmett Jackson Tuesday morning after pleading guilty to a charge of drunkenness.

Raymond has been back from the Toledo institution for only a month according to police. When in criminal court the last time he was demanded a jury trial and was convicted of drunkenness in less than one minute after the case went to a jury of Lima business men.

Charles B. Bell, 32, 317 W. High-st, arrested Monday on a charge of drunkenness, failed to appear in criminal court Tuesday and forfeited

OLD CITY HALL IS TO BE SOLD

Bids Will Be Asked When New Quarters Are Ready

The old city building on W. High-st is to be sold.

This recommendation was made by the buildings and park committee of the city council Monday night. It was recommended that bids be asked as soon as the mayor and city officials can make arrangements to move the city offices to the new city building on E. High-st.

The building will go to the highest and best bidder, bids first to be presented to the city council for approval.

The building and park committee also recommended that the market-master be authorized to increase rents on stalls sufficiently to place the market-house on a self-sustaining basis. It was recommended that $2 per month to cover the expense of operating his car in the discharge of his duties as keeper of weights and measures. The recommendation was adopted for a probationary period of three months.

THREE AFTER B. F. WELTY'S JOB

Fourth District Congressman Home For The Day

Congressman B. F. Welty, in Lima, to-day, having arrived Monday night from a trip thru Austria and Mercer-icos, spoke enthusiastically of the prospect of the success of Governor Cox for President in the November election.

"Before the national convention was held, I said repeatedly," Mr. Welty stated to a Daily News and Times-Democrat representative, "that Governor Cox was the one man who should be nominated, as he is well known all over the United States as an exceptionally splendid executive of the state of Ohio, three times elected by the people of the Buckeye state who repose in him the greatest confidence. Ohio isn't selfish. The people of this state are willing to lend their great son to the service of the nation. And I anticipate that the Democratic state ticket will be a strong one, particularly in respect to the nominees for Governor."

Mr. Welty, as a candidate for nomination and reelection, is making a hurried trip over the 4th district. "I find that about the only opposition in my candidacy," said the Lima man, "is that several others want my job."

MAYOR URGES CITY LAW TO DEAL WITH LIQUOR VIOLATIONS

Lima is to have an ordinance which will enable the city to prosecute violators of the liquor laws if the city council takes action on a recommendation of Mayor Frank A. Burkhardt made Monday night.

In explanation of the demand for such an ordinance the Mayor said all former laws which were in force before saloons went out are now ineffective. As a result, he said when an illicit still is located by Lima police it is necessary to turn the operator over to federal authorities, the city thereby losing the revenue which would result if they could be prosecuted under a city ordinance.

A copy of the ordinance in force in Mansfield was presented with the mayor's communication and provides for a fine of from $25 to $500 for any person having intoxicating liquor for sale as a beverage or having in his possession any still for its manufacture.

The communication was referred to the judiciary committee and the city solicitor.

The Best Dollar

You have one dollar that is more valuable than your other dollars; it is the one you deposit in a savings account at five per cent interest.

This dollar grows larger while those you try to keep in your pocket grow smaller.

Then there is an attraction about your savings account dollar that draws other dollars to it. It gives you a desire to put others with it to keep it company and let all grow together.

Your money deposited in this way is not withdrawn from circulation, but is loaned upon real estate and helps someone buy or build a home.

LIMA IS HEALTHY

Conditions Due to Good Sanitation Says Board

Health conditions in Lima are exceptionally good for this time of the year, according to officials of the Lima board of health and very few cases of contagious diseases have been reported within the past several weeks. Up to date no deaths from typhoid fever have been recorded and this disease which has always been a source of worry at this time of the year, is declared to be on the decrease here as elsewhere.

Sanitary conditions in Lima, it is said, are good, which accounts for the healthy condition of its residents. Persons returning from summer vacations frequently bring typhoid germs, having acquired it by drinking different water. This fact is said to account in many instances for the unusual appearance of typhoid in the early fall.

Why Cord Tires

FOR seventeen years motorists have been buying cord tires—since one of the factories of the United States Rubber Company built the first cord tire.

Ask the average motorist today why he buys cord tires and he will tell you because they give him more miles for his dollar —on the average.

Experienced motorists have come to expect something more from cord tires than merely "more miles on the average."

Watch experienced motorists buying a tire sometime when you happen to run across one in a tire shop.

You will probably see him feeling the tire the dealer hands him—not consciously, perhaps, but as if from force of habit.

Sometimes he will ask to see another tire of the same make.

Experience has taught him that even tires of the same make may vary considerably.

One of the reasons—the biggest reason—why the United States Rubber Company began its enlarged production of cord tires was because it realized that cord tires could be made to deliver more miles—not only on the average—but all the time.

This company has spent more money than any other tire concern on earth in making its Cord Tires uniform.

And by uniformity is meant not taking the exceptional tire and trying to find out what made it exceptional, but building every tire you build to the highest standards of quality.

JUDITH of BLUE LAKE RANCH

By JACKSON GREGORY

Just stepping into the courtyard assured her. "But, as I've just soft under the moon, tinkling with the play of the fountains, stirred Lee's heart to quicker beating. He had not set foot here for over two months, not since that night which he knew he should forget and yet to whose memory he clung desperately. This was the first time in many a long week that he had gone out of his way to seek Judith. And now words which Judith herself had spoken to him one day were now at least a part of the cause sending him to speak with her. She had said that he was loyal, that she needed loyal men. He still took her wage, he was still a Blue Lake ranch-hand, he still owed her his loyalty, tho it came from a sore heart.

If she were hard driven in some way which she had not seen fit to confide to him, if she were forced to him, that he was loyal, that she were mad or had at last lost her nerve, frightened at the thought of the heavy sums of money to be raised at the end of the winter, well, then it still could do no harm for him to speak his mind to her.

Hampton had told him the price when the horses were to bring; it was pitifully small and Lee meant to tell her so, to tell her further that he would guarantee an enormous gain over it if she gave him time.

He would be doing his part if he called him meddler for his pains. Marcia Langworthy, hidden in a big chair on the veranda, watched him approach with interest.

The Lee was unconscious of her presence. He had lifted a hand to tap at the door when she called to him, saying:

"Good evening, Mr. Mysterious Lee. Have you forgotten me?"

Theo he had pretty well forgotten her, it was not necessary to tell her that he had. He came toward her, putting out his hand.

"Good evening, Miss Langworthy," he said cordially. "I haven't seen much of you this time have I? Two reasons, you know: busy all day and half the night, for one thing, and for another Hampton has monopolized you."

Marcia laughed softly.

"To a man your size the second reason is absurd. Will you sit down? You see, I am taking it for granted that you come here to see me. Unless," and her eyes twinkled brightly up at him, "you were surreptitiously calling on Mrs. Simpson."

"I'd love to talk with you," he said.

"Where he has been every night since Judith left," laughed Marcia. "He's old Mr. Business Man these days. In the office."

There Lee found him. Hampton, his hair ruffled, Judith's table littered with market reports, and many sheets of paper covered with untidy figures, looked up at Lee's entrance.

"Hello, Bud," he said, reaching for cigarette and match. "Got everything ready for tomorrow?"

"Why didn't you tell me Miss Sanford had gone away?" was Lee's sharp rejoinder. Hampton flushed.

"Devil take those two eyes of yours, Bud," he said testily.

"They've got a way of boring thru man until he feels like they were scorching the furniture behind him. Well, I'll tell you. While Judith is away I am running this outfit. And if the men think I'm coming straight from her with an order they obey it. If they get the notion she isn't here, they're apt to ask questions. That's why."

"This sale to Doan, Rockwell & Haight," said Lee quickly. "You didn't cook that up, did you, Hampton?"

"Lord, no!" cried Hampton. From its place on a file he took a yellow slip of paper, tossing it to Lee.

"She sent me that this morning." It was a Western Union telegram, saying briefly:

Pollock, Hampton.

Blue Lake Ranch.

An forced to sell heavily. Sending Doan, Rockwell & Haight Monday morning, one hundred horses; as many beef cattle as Carson can round up. Accept terms made in their letter to you last week.

Judith Sanford.

The dateline upon the message gave the sending point as San Francisco.

"They wrote you a letter offering to buy," said Lee thoughtfully, his eyes rising slowly from the paper 'n

his fingers. "How'd it happen they didn't write to her?"

"Well, it's a natural enough mistake, isn't it? Knowing that she and I were both part-owners, knowing that we were both here, isn't it quite to be expected that they would write to the man instead of to the woman? Of course I gave her the letter as soon as I had opened it."

"Of course," answered Lee.

But his thoughts were not with him. They were with Bayne

Travers. He knew that Travers had long ago sold to these people; he knew, too, that at least two of the heavy shareholders in the Western Lumber Company were interested in Dean, Rockwell & Haight. Tom Rockwell himself was second vice-president of the lumber company.

"Have you had any other word from Miss Sanford?" he asked.

"No."

"Know who her lawyers are?"

"No, I don't."

"Anything in her papers here that would tell us?"

"No. Her papers are in the safe and it's locked and I don't know the combination."

"Know what hotel she is staying at in the city?"

"No. Look here, Bud; what are you driving at? I don't get you."

"No?" answered Lee absently.

"What Bud Lee was thinking was—"

"Here are too many coincidences!"

"Little things, each one in itself seems suspicious. But when he mentioned that the offer had come from this particular firm, that it had come just a few days before Judith's first departure from the ranch, that it had been addressed not to her but to Hampton, so that he must have the opportunity to read it, that she had been recalled suddenly to the city, that that call had come after the house was quiet, its occupants in bed, that no letter had come since she had left, that no one knew where to reach her when he passed all of these things review the bitterness in his heart died under them, and the first anxiety sprang up anew, grown almost into fear for her.

"There's just one thing, Hampton," he said, his eyes hard on the boy's face. "We don't sell a single hoof in the morning. Not a cow nor a horse until Judith is here herself."

Hampton, new in his role of general manager, flushed hotly, his own eyes showing fight.

"Like you, Lee," he said sharply, his tone that of master to man. "And I don't want us to quarrel. But Judith wired me to sell, I've wired the buyers an acceptance and we do sell in the morning!"

For a full minute Bud Lee stood stone still, staring into Hampton's face. Then, tossing the telegram to the table, he turned and went out. His face had gone suddenly white.

"They've got you somehow Judith girl," he whispered through his lips. "But the fight is still to be made. And, by God, there's a day of squaring accounts coming for a man named Bayne Travers!"

He went to the bunk-house, neither seeing Marcia nor hearing her when she called after him, and with a word to Carson brought the cattle foreman hurriedly outside.

SHIP CANAL POSSIBILITIES

AT FIRST glance, the appointment of delegates from Lima by Mayor F. A. Burkhardt to attend the Great Lakes-Tidewater Congress at Detroit, this week, beginning Thursday, does not appear to be of great importance to Lima, in the matter of present or future aid to this city and its environs, but an investigation of the possibilities in achievement of this organization reveals the fact that the men and women of Lima appointed by Mayor Burkhardt to attend the congress with him, will be rendering the city a great possible service for the future by lending their presence and influence in the Detroit assembly.

The object of the association is to bring about a deep waterway from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic ocean, to take counsel together as to how best they may advance this project for releasing the movement of products and developing the natural resources of this great producing region of the west. Governors, mayors, boards of commerce, commercial clubs, waterway organizations, and industrial transportation and commercial companies will have representatives present.

The further purpose of this meeting is to sum up the needs of the several communities, to discuss the factors which make the transportation situation a national emergency and to formulate measures for avoiding a national catastrophe—focusing the effort upon the Lakes-to-Ocean route via the natural course of the St. Lawrence.

Here is where Lima comes in on this: Eventually, the Great Lakes and the Ohio river will be connected by a ship canal that will pass thru Allen-co, placing at our very doors the opportunity for the receiving and dispatching of freight on long hauls without the necessity of reverting to the railroads. It will bring ocean going vessels to Toledo and other Lake ports and with the building of an Ohio ship canal, as now appears an assured project of the not far distant future, ocean going vessels would pass thru this county. The idea may appear chimerical now, but it is far from being beyond the range of possibility. In fact, it is a probability.

Commerce has outgrown its facilities as the population and productive powers of the nation have increased. The railroads carried last year four hundred billion tons of goods and products, with equipment barely equal to the load of two hundred and fifty billion tons before the war. Railroad transportation is no longer adequate for the commerce of the continent. As the railroads displaced the Erie canal, as the Erie superseded the Cumberland road, as the national highway took the place of the canoe and pack saddle, so a radical revision of national facilities is now needed to accommodate the fast expanding traffic of a continent.

World commerce depends upon deep waterways, served by railroad lines and river navigation, fed by local highways. There is only one adequate waterway devised by nature from the ocean to the very heart of this continent. That is the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence route. It is blocked now only by the Niagara barrier and the rapids below Lake Ontario. The new Welland canal continues the continental waterway of the Great Lakes thru to Lake Ontario. The rapids of the St. Lawrence stand as the last remaining obstacle between the lakes and the ports of the world.

Until this waterway is opened, traffic is strangled, production is stifled, the economic right of the west to produce to the limit of its resources and to draw on all the world for raw materials for its needs is virtually denied.

JUST A GIRL

BY JANE PHELPS

MRS. STEWART PLEADS FOR JACK

Jack didn't seem to be at all upset when I told him I had not decided to marry. In novels, the lover always raves and declares he cannot live without the one girl whom he honors with his love, and his proposal. So I was rather disappointed that Jack took it so coolly.

"You'll change your mind," Jack remarked after a moment. "Jack girl?"

"Perhaps I may be a little different from 'all girl,'" I said sarcastically.

"Oh, no, you won't!" And I am going to keep right on asking you until you accept me."

"To get rid of you?" We both laughed. Jack really was a nice chap, but spoiled by having too much money and a doting mother who thought him perfect—and told him, as well as the others,

"In self-defense, perhaps. But I don't care anything about why you marry me. It is the fact that you are going to that interests me," he said.

"Don't be tiresome! I may never marry at all, as I told you, if I do, it won't be for years and years." Then: "Father doesn't believe in my marrying young."

For the first time Jack looked a little anxious.

"You mean that your Father would object to me?"

"Oh, I don't know that he would object to you any more than to any other fellow—but unless he objected to you because you were an idiot."

"What's the use of working when one doesn't have to?"

"None at all, unless it is to show that you have brains as well as money."

"What rot you talk! I thought perhaps I might do things to which he objected."

"No—Mother says you are a nice, moral boy."

Jack flushed crimson.

"What's the matter? Don't you like to be called 'nice' and 'moral'?"

(Copyright, 1920)

I was quite embarrassed or rather for showing her feelings so plainly. I was afraid, too, that Jack would let her know he had proposed to me, and that I would get a scolding, after he left. But he didn't say a word about it, and soon left, not giving Mother no chance.

"What a nice boy Jack is," she remarked. I made no reply, although she had waited, evidently expecting one. "He is the most desirable young man we know."

"In what respect, mother?" As a husband, or as a son-in-law?"

"In both, Zena. He is a gentleman, has good habits, and unlimited resources." Mother seldom used the word "money" when talking of what people had. I knew she thought it vulgar.

"But doesn't one need to love the man one marries?" One can't love a man just because he is nice, and he money."

"It is just as easy to care for a young man like Jack Pryor as it is to become infatuated with someone else."

I knew Mother was speaking generally, but she had no one in particular in mind. Yet my thoughts flew to Kenneth Lawrence. Was he not Jack Pryor's equal in all that counted? He had no money. His manners were not quite so exquisite, even if they were honest, but—my thoughts were interrupted.

"I hope you will be very nice to Jack Pryor, Zena. His mother thinks a great deal of you."

"My own Mother satisfies me."

I kissed her and ran from the room before she could say any more. But when Dad came in I overheard her say to him:

"Zena shall marry Jack Pryor. They would make an ideal couple."

LOVE AND MARRIED LIFE

BY IDA McGLOONE GIBSON

ALICE AND TOM CALL

"Well, why have we brought all this furniture over here?" John asked. "If we are not going to use it, Katherine?"

"I am going to use it upstairs," I said as John followed me upstairs. "I think I shall enjoy the dramatic contrast of the Oriental splendor of our living rooms to the Colonial austerity of these upper chambers, and oh, they are wonderful! They are wonderful!" I repeated. We stepped from one room to another. "These two bed rooms, with a dressing room and bath between, will be . . . This one shall be our guest chamber and this darling little suite of three shall be given up to Mary and her nurse. Oh, I think it is wonderful! Look! Here are sleeping porches for Mary and for you. And here in this alcove I can have my coffee every morning. John, the house is ideal."

"It will be when it is paid for," was his comment.

"Why, of course, we can pay for it, dear. If you will promise me that you will not invest any more money for a while in stock margins. We can easily pay for the house with the profits of your next big advertising contract."

"I am not so sure, dear, that I can do that. Business is rather slow. You know that is one reason, Katherine, that I started in on the curb market; it's the 'little' market."

"You mustn't want to make money too fast, John."

"Can any man make money too fast?" he answered.

"Yes, dear, much too fast. We may envy this suddenly rich person, but did you ever know one whom you would like to make your friend?"

"But I wouldn't be one of those newly rich guys who could think and talk of nothing but 'money.'"

"Yes you would, dear. We always think and talk about the thing that we are most interested in. That makes us imagine we are impressing others with our importance. The man who made millions in the last war never for a moment thinks that he has not made his money by his own capabilities. Do you ever hear one admit that it naturally flowed into his pocket because of the great necessities of war?"

"Hello, everybody, hello!" The voice came from below. Both John and I looked down over the balcony of the balcony and saw Alice and Tom.

It was the first I had seen of Tom since I returned. Dear old Tom! I know of no man that I think would be easier to live with than Alice's husband. True, he isn't very easy on the eyes, being fat and bald and somewhat bandy-legged, but his smile is always of that kind that won't come off. His hand clasp is warm and his eyes are kindly. I think down in her heart that Alice loves him dearly, but she tells herself that she does not; that they are only friends and pals because he doesn't fill her aesthetic eye.

"Come up here," I shouted, "and see the rest of our lovely home."

"I am looking at something quite as lovely," he answered.

"Tom!" said Alice with a smile.

"You are too gallant."

"I have told the truth. Isn't Katherine pretty as she looks down at us

Alkali in Shampoo Bad For Washing Hair

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides it loosens and takes out every particle of dirt, dust and dandruff.

DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

BY PHILLIS PHILLIPS

WHEREIN LINDSEY AND LAURA AGREE SOME MORE

After we had discussed our up-bringing and tried to puzzle out just why two such vagrant spirits as ourselves had ever been wished into two such conservative families, Laura and I again went back to the subject of the future. And, oh, how much that little word does mean to both of us!

Laura said that she would be so glad not to have to live by rule anymore, and she knows that she will not have to, when once she is Mrs. Travers. Her idea of a paradise on earth is a small home with few duties in it and long, long hours to herself.

She explained that all her life she had been subjected to rules and regulations, first with governesses and then later with her school teachers and mother. Mrs. Edmunds, it seems, is a disciplinarian and has always insisted on her home being run like clock-work!

Well, she and mother will always have to be practical, and married without any soul struggles of a sister-in-law!

How I did laugh when Laura explained to me just how she wanted to live when she was married. First of all there should never be a stick of mahogany in her home. No, far rather plain, unvarnished, unpainted wood, then the pompous solemnity of the former. Mahogany was just made to worry the lives out of housekeepers and accumulate dust. And it was all Queen Victoria's fault anyhow, according to Laura. I was not up on my history enough to discuss this, however.

Then there is a ban on honest to goodness tablecloths. If she has her way, Morgan will eat his meals on a pine table, kept well scoured, like you do down in that romantic little Greenwich Village inn. That's her idea of table perfection.

The five and ten-cent store is to supply them with their napery, which is to be of simple, undone, crinkly paper! Dear, how I laughed at this, for Jack and I had both decided the other day that of such were the kingdom of heaven: especially as the laundries had gone up so terribly in price and were fond of destroying your clothes

I told this to Laura and she nodded her head very wisely, and said, "Of course he'd feel the same way, isn't he my brother, and hasn't he suffered from the same things as I have for years?" "That's true," said I.

I next found out that there were to be practically no rugs on the Travers' home, the made for dirt and were a relic of Victorian days, too, according to Laura. My, but that girl has planned out every little detail, I'll say.

Last but not least is the fact that they are to keep open house with no set invitations, and all and any of their friends always welcome. The poor child has never been allowed to just drop into a meal with a chum at her mother's home, and is aching to be able to feel free in this respect in her own. This is natural.

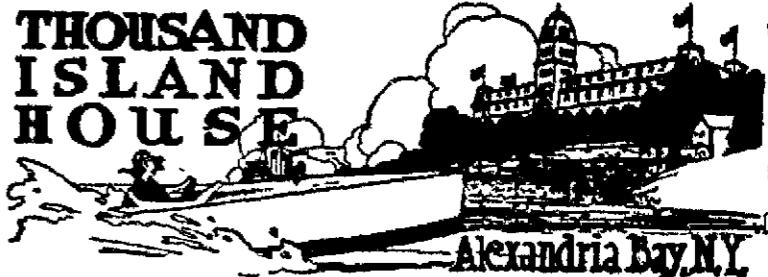

Paper napkins and bare tables, plus a warm welcome make for conviviality at a dinner, and all dinners should be so. All this gleaming and expensive napery and cut-glass such as she had been reared on, make for heaviness of spirit and are most oppressive. One feels that one must live up to the power and the glory of it all.

I am right with Laura in every detail. I see that we will be able to entertain each other when we are married without any soul struggles of a sister-in-law!

PRISCILLA BONNER IS NEW FIND OF MOVIES

BY ESTHER WAGNER

PRISCILLA BONNER is the name of one of Goldwyn's newest finds. Miss Bonner is a charming young girl who is to play ingenue parts. You will see her for the first time, no doubt, playing opposite Jack Pickford in "The Man Who Had Everything." Miss Bonner's father is a Lieutenant colonel now stationed in Chicago on the staff of Major General Wood. Most of her early life she spent in out of the way army posts and it's a very, very different life from the motion picture studio is her verdict.

"I have acted all my life," she explains, "not really but make-believe. You see, kiddies who are reared in army posts do not have all of the advantages that city children do and so I just had to amuse myself most of the time. My favorite game was play acting and I usually had to take all the parts and do the scenes shifting myself because there were seldom other children to play with. I used to act out every book I read and I used to imitate all the men and women who came to our house."

Miss Bonner says it never occurred to her to really act until she was quite grown-up, which can hardly be true, for the young miss is scarcely grown up yet.

AT THE REGENT Mary Pickford is starred in "Suds" playing at the Regent today.

NEW YORK — Announcement of the $600,000,000 railway wage award, made just before the opening of Tuesday's stock market occasioned moderate selling of the railroad group. Traders acted on the assumption that the amount of the award would be unsatisfactory to the railroad workers. Low priced speculative issues such as Southern Railway, St. Louis and San Francisco, and Missouri Pacific common and preferred, were lower by one half to a full point. Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Atchison and West, forfeited only the smallest fractions. In the general list automobile shares and stocks and equipments were inclined to react with allied specialties.

Rails rallied 1 to 1 1/2 points when it was reported railroad unions might withhold formal protest against the wage award. From transports the recoveries extended to prominent specialties, the 8 per cent to call money rate also being an encouraging factor. American Woolen was strongest of the specialties, gaining 3 1/2 points on rumors of an early resumption of operations at New England mills now under suspension. Motor specialties, notably rubber tire issues were firm to strong with copper, chemicals and shiplings. Exchange on London continued to react against that market.

The course of today's stock market was not appreciably affected by the publication of the railway wage award. Transportation issues were relatively strong. Sales approximated 300,000 shares.

By BUD FISTER

MUTT AND JEFF—MY WORD, BUT ISN'T JEFF A PESSIMISTIC LITTLE CHAP—

Short Shavings

"In many countries babies campaign and sometimes offer a bribe for a vote. It isn't bribery, merely a way of campaigning."

"Well, if you put it that way, I'd rather have a bribe than a bum argument."

Little Girl (looking over newspaper advertisement): "Mamma, why do all these boarding houses object to children?"

Mother: "I'm sure I don't know. Go and see what the baby is howling about, and tell Johnnie to stop throwing things at people in the street, and make George and Kate stop fighting, and tell Dick if he doesn't stop breaking that drum so hard, I'll take it from him."

There was not even standing room in the crowded electric car, but one more passenger—a young woman, wedged her way along just inside the doorway. Each time the car took a sudden lurch forward she fell helplessly back, and three times she landed in the arms of a third, comfortable man. The third time it happened, he said, quietly:

"Hadn't you better stay home?"

In the Zone finance office a letter was received inquiring about a bond which the soldier had purchased. His letter was rather incisive, and the office was unable to identify the case. So, a letter went back to the soldier asking for more information and incidentally inquiring whether it was a converted bond.

"Now, the bond wasn't converted," wrote back the soldier, "and I don't want it messed up in religion."

"Just One" Is All

One Tablet Always Right Dosage Because "They Never Wear Out." No other laxative in the world can honestly make the above claim. Will not cause constipation or griping with out constant increase of dosage. It may be good at first, but the system gets used to them and refuses to respond so readily.

"Just One" is the new laxative. Twenty different laxatives in one box. Each of the 20 tablets is a different and successful laxative formula. You change laxatives every dose you take. You have to take 30 to 40 to get rid of it, because there is only one of each kind in each package. It's very injurious to keep switching around on the same regimen with the same laxative day after day. The person becomes callous and unresponsive. Then you must either double the dose or get another laxative.

It's best to work on first one enema and then another. It gets results but the system has no chance to get used to it. That's why it "never wears out."

You've been waiting for "Just One." So, here it comes. And the price is right. You can get "Just One" for you or your wife mail it postpaid upon receipt of 25¢ per box. Ferronite Chemical Co., Council Bluffs, Iowa.

JAPS WILD OVER DIAMONDS

Platinum and Precious Stones Are Sought by Orientals.

CHICAGO—The Japanese have gone mad over platinum jewelry, according to George R. Allen, recently returned from Seoul, Korea.

"It is no exaggeration to say," declared Allen, "that the Japanese in Japan are wearing $10,000,000 worth of platinum jewelry. Among the wealthy and fashionable people of the mikado's empire, every form of platinum jewelry is in demand. The jewelers cannot begin to supply the wants of their customers. Platinum has come to be the fashionable foil for diamonds and this is a combination of the highest priced gems and the highest priced metal."

"But price makes no difference to the Japanese. This is a period in Japan, as it is in this country of high wages and big money and everybody is indulging in an orgy of buying. The higher the cost of anything the more desirable it is. The war made millionaires overnight and gave the working class more money than they ever had before. Since the war began to pour money into Japan, the nation has become a great diamond buyer. Before the war it bought few diamonds."

Allen says Siberia is a treasure house of gold and platinum, but it will be years before its mineral wealth can be exploited. He declares the Soviets destroyed three $600,000 dredges used in the platinum mines in the Ural mountains, once the world's chief source of platinum supply, and no work at all is being done in these mines. The world is now forced to depend for almost all its platinum on the mines in Colombia, South America.

20,000 AT ELYRIA

Attend Eagle's Convention—Officers Named by Order

ELYRIA, Ohio, (By United Press)—Fully 20,000 persons, 6,000 of them Eagles, were here for the closing session of the Ohio Eagles convention Wednesday. Steubenville was awarded the 1921 convention prior to the election of officers Tuesday night.

Officers elected were as follows: President, Don L. Hayes, Wilmette; vice-president, Judge Samuel Bell, Cincinnati; secretary, Edward W. Heyman, Columbus; treasurer, Henry Birkenhauser, Toledo; chaplain, Tom Edmunds, Jr., Martins Ferry; conductor, Fred O. Brumley, Postoria.

A half dozen cities were to compete late Wednesday for the $1,000 to be awarded for the best exemplification of ritual work. Hamilton, Columbus and Dayton won first, second and third prizes respectively. The greatest increase in membership during the past year.

$100,000 BOOST AT VAN WERT
VAN WERT—The railroad wage award will mean a yearly increase of $160,000 to railroad employees here. This is based on the facts that the increase is between 20 and 27 percent and that the Cincinnati Northern railway has in Van Wert a force of 500 men with an approximate payroll of $800,000 yearly.

MEXICO CITY.—General Pablo Gonzales, former presidential candidate and revolutionary leader, freed unconditionally by War Minister Calles.

WASHINGTON.—Wholesale prices of foodstuffs dropped 2 1/4 percent in June while retail prices increased, department of labor statistics indicate.

FIRST TIME THIS STRANGE CASE TOLD THE PUBLIC

Local citizen declares he feels like a different man since he overcame the dizzy spells, weak kidneys, indigestion and gastritis.

New remedy Dreco was prompt in action and pleasant in effect. Recommends it strongly.

There is probably no other medicine of its kind has won the praise that Dreco has during the past few months right here in this section. Men and women who have given themselves up as incurable are coming forward with remarkable signed statements telling what Dreco has accomplished for them after almost everything else had failed.

"Every morning now whereas before I'd roll and toss all night long and be worn out next morning I was afraid I was about to be laid on the shelf for my world seemed to drag on me. After meals I'd have a feeling, often with nausea and gastritis I'd frequently get very dizzy and had aching pains in my back, direct over my kidneys. I was bilious all the time and had severe headaches."

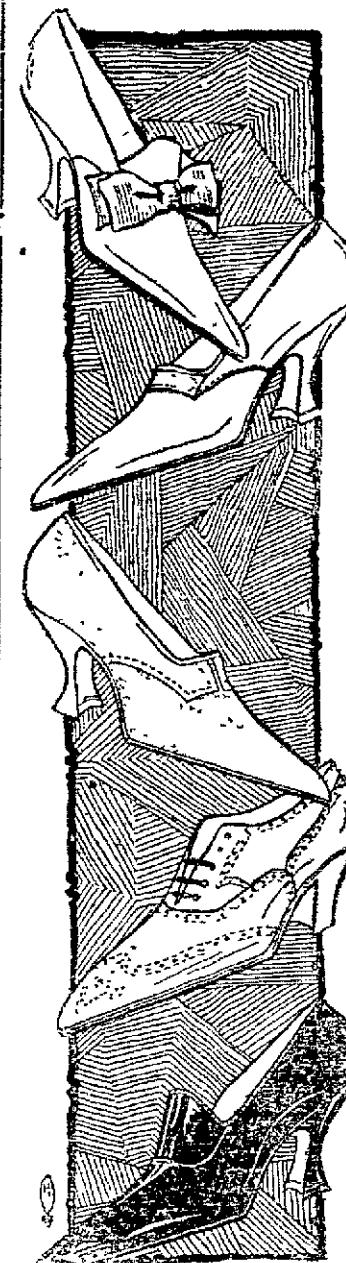

"Since taking a treatment of Dreco I'm like another person, for all these troubles are gone; haven't had one dizzy spell; pain in my back all gone and I eat hearty and never fear the after effects before Dreco is grand medicine and I strongly recommend it."

The old-fashioned remedies, made from roots and herbs, are the best for any one to take. Dreco is made from twelve different Roots, herbs, barks and leaves. These act on the stomach, bowel; kidneys, and purify the blood. Dreco knocks rheumatism out shortly; relieves earache of the head and stomach; makes you sleep soundly and creates a good appetite. As a blood purifier nothing can equal Dreco. It puts a stop to boils, eczema and other blood afflictions.

All good druggists now sell Dreco and it is highly recommended in Lima by Baldwin's Central Drug Store, corner Main and High-sts.

LIMA'S HOUSE SHORTAGE

ALL LIMA should sit up and take notice of the conditions that are responsible for the building shortage in this city. That the situation is acute it cannot, should not, be denied. The records show that building permits for the first half of the year 1920 are not up to expectations and that the home building campaign inaugurated by the Chamber of Commerce and backed by the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, the Real Estate and Manufacturers' Boards and various other organizations has been a signal failure.

Analyzing the situation, various reasons are advanced for this state of affairs, probably the most important of which is the money shortage, inability to secure freight delivery of materials and to the uncertainty that always obtains in a "presidential year." The fact that a presidential election is at hand has not had the effect on business conditions that has characterized other similar periods; in fact, there has been little perceptible effect on business from that source, but it is there, in a measure, nevertheless.

Only a few months ago, due to inflated currency, extravagant buying and borrowing money for the purchase of non-essentials, the banks became genuinely alarmed and there was a sudden and unexpected tightening up of the money market. While the danger of a money panic did not exist at any time, could scarcely occur under the federal reserve system, yet it remained a fact that care and caution must be exercised. The banks did the one and only thing to meet the situation fairly and squarely and remove the danger of anything occurring that would tend to produce a situation that would set back progress and prosperity in a serious manner—the ban was put upon indiscriminate loans.

Lima needs more houses. The workers of this city are home owners to a great extent and there are many hundreds who would be only too happy to have the opportunity to purchase, on the installment plan such as is devised by building and loan associations and building corporations, homes for their families, if they could do so, or rent good properties. The home building campaign in Lima has been a failure, the same as in many other centers of population, due to the same causes. The causes should be removed. They are detrimental to progress. In this first year of the period that is to mark the next census, Lima and all other cities are not afforded the opportunity to grow and expand that is rightly their due. Increase of population is being held down, retarded.

To meet these conditions, the Chamber of Commerce, realty boards, contractors' boards, building and financial agencies, manufacturers' boards, city officials, civic clubs and individuals should work hand in hand, honestly, earnestly and sincerely. The agencies that are detrimental are not insurmountable. No one should for one minute entertain the "it can't be done" sentiment. Substitute for the world old plain quoted in the preceding sentence the slogan, "It can be done."

The Chamber of Commerce members, having dropped the housing plan temporarily should take new heart. There's a rift in the clouds somewhere. Seek it!

BOOST YOUR OWN JOB

YOUNG MAN, man of middle age, old man, any old man—would you know the secret of rising out of the rut so many find themselves in? Here's how. Be a partisan of your job. Be a champion of the firm for which you work. Look upon your labors as an essential part of a great plan.

There are too many who are listless punch-the-clock drones. Better be ready to punch the nose of anyone who berates either your own job or the concern you are on the job for.

Better still, be proud of what you are doing. Consider it as an essential. Look upon it as a civic asset. If you must "cuss" the boss, do it in private. If you feel that the boss deserves nothing but "cussing," then it's time to get another boss. If you can't boast what he is trying to do, there is only one thing for you to do—quit.

If you think the man you are working for is a conscienceless mammon worshipper and that your daily labors are but a sacrifice to an obscene god, don't gabble your convictions to everybody you meet, lest everybody you meet say: "By your own outburst you convict yourself of selling your soul for a pay check."

Don't knock your job. The Lord banished Beelzebub from heaven for just that sort of fault. Consider that job a worthy one, strive hard to be worthy of it and wonderful indeed will be the pleasure you can extract from what hookworm pessimists sometimes call the "daily grind."

The contented worker is impelled to the thought that "life is real, life is earnest." It should be so to everyone. When it is not, there is something wrong that needs correcting quickly. Perhaps the fault is with the individual himself. A little investigation may develop something of a startling character. All of us, after all, are just workers. Each and everyone has his problems. Maybe the reason some of us don't advance is that we do not make ourselves worthy of advancement.

Get right with yourself in the interest of your job.

SPEND YOUR VACATION AT HOME

IT WAS Longfellow who once said that "home keeping hearts are happiest." He was upholding the position of domesticity against that of the rolling stone. Those who go to Atlantic City, Cape May or what not for a summer vacation cannot be called rolling stones, yet they may well heed the Longfellow line.

If those intent upon a vacation do not desire to remain at home to recuperate and cannot afford to visit some far distant summer resort, they should remember that there are many delightful camping places not far removed from their homes. One enthusiastic home vacation advocate asks: "Why go far afield when your own back pasture is rich with daisies?" Why spend money, time, patience and a long tiresome trip when only a few miles from Lima there are quiet spots where the tired mind may relax and the tired body find compensation for its pain?

Why make the summer vacation so expensive that you have to spend the remainder of the year digging for the money spent, when you can rusticate for a few dollars in nearby spots as delightful as distant ones?

Only a few miles removed from Lima, in different directions, are delectable spots where the screened in miniature cottage can be erected, the tent planted, the pallet laid beneath the aureate stars and one can snore in serene ecstasy to the lullaby of nature's choristers, the little singing waves clad in their cloth-of-gold made by that immortal tailor, the Man in the Moon and sent express by his moonbeam messengers who travel faster than Puck himself.

"Spend your vacation at home" is a good motto, certainly an excellent one for those who are not so fortunate as to be rolling in wealth. See northwest Ohio first. You will be surprised to discover in it such grottos of loveliness as you did not suppose were within five hundred miles of home.

BY JANE PHELPS

NOT FOR A YEAR

I had written to Kenneth several times, and of course he had also written to me just as often. One day Mother was in the hall when the letter handed me one of Kenneth's letters.

"Bring it to my room, Zena," she said, quietly.

I followed meekly. Mother had a certain way with her. No matter how quietly she spoke, I never argued with her.

"Read your letter, then let me see it." Even when annoyed, Mother never did an unkindly thing. I opened and read the short note—it was little more.

Kenneth had been busy on the ranch until time for me to leave and had ridden miles to post the note, all he had time to write.

"Have you been writing him? This note sounds as if you had been corresponding regularly."

"Yes, I have written him several letters."

"Have you those he has written you?"

"Yes."

"Bring them to me." I went to my room and took from their hiding place a small bundle of letters tied with a blue ribbon. It never entered my mind to undo them, to hold any back. Mother was my mother, and so had a perfect right to see them.

I gave her the packet without speaking. She had a queer expression when she united the ribbon, almost as if she wanted to laugh, but would not allow herself to do so.

She read them all carefully. I was sure she didn't skip one single word. I watched her closely, but her face told me nothing. When she had finished, she said:

"I would rather you destroyed these letters, Zena." She had given them back to me. "But whatever you do, I forbid you to write any more."

"Oh, but Mother!"

"No, Zena, I shall not change my mind, so it won't do any good to argue."

"I may write and tell him you don't want us to correspond any more, maybe?" my voice trembled, and I could scarcely see Mother for the tears in my eyes.

"Write him just a few words if that will please you. Tell him that

Yours always,

Kenneth Lawrence."

"I like that chap! What he says about spending the year in such a way as to win your Mother's good opinion, shows the right spirit."

Father said as he returned my letter.

HEALTH HINTS

BY William Brady, M. D.

Autobiography of a Baby—28 Keeping Me Cool.

Excessive heat is directly and indirectly fatal for young babies. I don't know why it is that some mothers seem to think the whole duty of a mother to her baby is to keep the baby from "taking cold," whatever that may mean. We babies are a lot warmer than some chilly people imagine. We manufacture much more heat, in proportion to our size, than grownups do. It is correspondingly harder for us to dispose of this superfluous heat without injury to ourselves. Yet just think of the thousands of poor little babes who are kept swaddled in woolen shirts and several layers of other clothing in hot weather. The more ignorant the mother, the greater is her fear of letting the baby enjoy an air bath. Some college graduates are so ignorant that it is enough to make a fellow sick thinking how their unhappy infants are forced to sweater thru hot weather—if they do get thru at all. What the deuce do they teach girls in college, anyway, I wonder? My dad thinks they teach them that the care of babies is rather beneath the dignity of a "cultured woman." By gosh, I'm glad my dad did not marry a cultured woman.

Every day in hot weather a baby should have a morning and an evening bath, tepid water, for cooling purposes.

Every baby, breast or bottle fed, needs many drinks of cool water from bottle or spoon or cup every day in hot weather.

If a baby develops diarrhea, besides the first treatment described in preceding chapters, his food should be diluted with water, say one third water, for a few days.

In very hot weather, a diaper is sufficient clothing for several hours.

YOUR NAME CADWALADER

(By Philip Francis Nowlan)

VARIATION—Cadwalader.

RADICAL ORIGIN—Welsh.

SOURCE—A given name.

Cadwalader is a family name to be found frequently in every section of America in which Welshmen have settled. It is, of course, like the overwhelming majority of Celtic family names, derived from a given name; and in this case the family name is virtually the same as the given name, the prefix, "ap," meaning "son of," having been dropped under the influence of English speech.

"Cadwaladyr" as a given name was one which had become surrounded with a halo of glory long before the Normans swept into England and finally brought Wales under their yoke. In the Cymric tongue the name means "battle arranger," or more broadly speaking "general" or "strategist."

A Welsh prince of this name was canonized in the year 688, being famous not only for his sanctity (an attribute which history proves to have been surprisingly common in the ancient Welsh royalty,) but for his remarkable successes in war against the Saxon Englishmen. Indeed, he appears to have been so uniformly successful against them that the Saxons came to regard him as the very opposite of a saint, and the name "Caedwalla," as they spelled it, became a by-word for trickiness.

The ancient Bretons, who belong to the Cymric branch of the Celtic race, as do the Welsh, knew the name of "Cadwaladr."

Tomorrow—Hopkins

in the heat of the day.

If a baby's feet and hands are warm and the baby appears happy or contented, you may be sure he has plenty of clothing, in any weather or in any circumstances.

Milk for feeding the baby had better be boiled five minutes thru a spell of hot weather, unless it is certified milk, or unless it is immediately cooled after milking and kept cold until used. It is not advisable to boil milk except in hot weather. When boiled milk is fed for any considerable period of weeks, the baby should receive daily, some orange juice to prevent scurvy.

Never put shoes and stocking on a baby in warm weather, until the heat of foolishness is a baby too young to walk wearing shoes—this is almost as foolish as a girl too young to be physical sloth, wearing a corset. I went barefoot until I was a year old, because father felt that the shoe makers would have plenty of time to ruin my feet later on. Bare feet help a fellow to keep cool even when it isn't permissible for him to be bare naked.

JUDITH OF BLUE LAKE RANCH

By JACKSON GREGORY

THE WRATH OF POLLOCK HAMPTON

Baye Trevor's way had ever been to play safe, the way of a coward or a wise man. Now, no doubt he was giving an account of himself in legitimate endeavor at the lumber camp, putting in his appearance at his regular hour, late after lying between him and that which might occur upon the Blue Lake ranch, establishing alibis, conducting himself like the man he was indeed the world to think him! But in the mind of Bud Lee there was no question, no doubt, Baye Trevor, or some of Baye Trevor's gang, was even at this instant holding Judith somewhere until this colored deal could be put over. Lee's face went whiter, his hands gripped tighter, his hard fists, as those came to his mind the picture of Quinlan's face and evil, red-stained eyes.

"Well," snapped Carson. "What now?"

"There's going to be no sale in the morning," said Lee, and at the new strange tone in Lee's voice Carson jerked up his head, thrusting it forward, peering at the other thru that moonlit night.

"Say it again," muttered Carson. "Who said so? Miss Judith?"

"She isn't here," replied Lee briefly. "Hasn't been here since Saturday."

Now, with more cause than ever, did Carson stare at him.

"Then what did Pollock Hampton say sell for? By gribes, if this is one of that young 'hop-o'-my-thumb's' jokes, I'm going to the house an' murder him. That's all. An' right now!"

Lee laid a hand on Carson's arm. "Hold on old timer," he said shortly. "We'll have a talk with him after a while. Now I want to talk with you."

Contenting himself with the coldest of brief outlines, Bud Lee told Carson of Judith's absence and of his own suspicious Carson, who had listened to him gravely, at the end, shook his head.

"That's a pretty bad play, Bud," he said slowly. "I don't believe Trevor would get that coarse in his work. It doesn't look like him a little bit."

"Does this sale look the least bit like Judith?" demanded Lee sharply. "Is her style to go over our heads this way, Carson? If she's got to sell heavily why pick out this particularly set of buyers? Why is the deal rushed thru while she's away?" "Tell you there's a nigger in the wood-pile and it's up to you and me to smoke him out. Come up to the house with me."

Carson did not see them as they drew near in the moonlight. For, with a plan shaping in his brain, Lee judged best that they should not be seen. He and Carson passed in a wide arc about the left end of the courtyard around the end of the house and so to a door opening from the office to the back of the house. This door he found unlocked and pushed open.

Hamon lifted swift eyes sending something stern and ominous in this silent approach.

"We want to talk things over with you," began Lee. "If you've come to bulldoze me out of that deal in the morning, retorted Hamptton, "you might as well keep still. I'm going to sell." "I don't know that you'd exactly call it bulldozing," smiled Lee, determined to be pleasant with the young fellow as long as possible.

ELIZABETH MORELAND DROPS IN

"Hello there, folks," said an unexpected voice and we all turned from examining our new house to face Elizabeth Moreland.

"We didn't hear you come in," said John rather nervously.

"I stopped to admire your beautiful home, Katherine, or as much of it as one could admire below the stairs. You see John has never invited me here."

"Now, Bess," interrupted John hastily—

She would not let him go on and I saw by this that even a clever woman as Elizabeth Moreland might make mistakes.

"You see, Katherine," she said, turning to me, "I knew that John felt that he ought to bring you across the threshold of your home before he invited any other woman, no matter how old and intimate the friendship was between them."

John's face was purple. I felt very sorry for him as I knew instinctively that Elizabeth had banked upon the supposition that John would not tell me that he and Elizabeth had been here, and she had put the idea in so strong a way that John had not the heart of showing that she had not deliberately lied.

It was all that I could do to keep from crying that John had explained last time that she was here with him how unusually gay and colorful dining room set would adorn the downstairs dining room. Still I remained and in rearming I threw new bouquets to myself. I knew that John would tell Elizabeth what she had done in much stronger words than I could.

"Isn't the whole house beautiful, want on Elizabeth bluntly unconscious of what she had started for herself. "Did you ever see a more exquisite view than one has from this window?"

"What is the matter, Katherine? What is the matter?" hissed Alice. Alice, who is quick to notice if anything goes wrong."

I looked up to find that Tom and John had followed Elizabeth into the other room.

"Nothing," I answered, smiling except that Elizabeth has been here once, but many times before.

She has probably helped John to plan the furnishings of this house and came in this afternoon for the express purpose of impressing those plans on me."

"The little hypocrite," said Alice. "I would like to wring her neck."

"Don't do it, dear. She is hanging herself, drawing the noose about her throat each day, the just at present I think that John would be quite as pleased to strangle her as you. Did you notice how he tried to interrupt her when she was living

DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

BY PHILLIS PHILLIPS

Laura and I decided to go out for lunch, and so after a most entertaining morning, we strolled out about one o'clock and headed for downtown.

I suddenly had an inspiration and asked Laura if she would like to call up Morgan and have lunch with him in the studio? She was not alone so that was all right and we could right there and then begin to try out some of her formulas for a happy meal-time.

The idea struck her as just right, so we got Morgan on the phone and he seemed delighted at the prospect—said he had just finished a hard morning's work and was dying of hunger. I told him that we would bring in the eats.

Then we just flew around buying food and it was no end of fun. We settled up by buying a large bottle of cider, and a package of paper napkins at the five and ten.

Arrived at Morgan's, we sank onto his cool, wide couch and tried to regain our composure. Hard task after some strenuous gossiping — plus a hurried shopping.

We took off our warm shoes and stretched out just as we were back in my bedroom again. That is the advantage we artists have over average mortals. We are, above all, natural and do not force ourselves to be stiff and formal when we do not feel that way.

Laura admired the sketch of me that Morgan had finished and then Morgan and I told her all about Jack's stalling his mother about my posing for Morgan, etc. She laughed till she cried and said she was so glad that her brother was engaged to a real girl because it was developing a side of him that she had always suspected was there, the dor-

How we laughed when we discovered that dear, old Morgan did not possess such a thing as a table napkin. In fact looked rather dazed when

Remove hair in the safe and dainty way

If you are wondering which way best removes unsightly hair, think first of safety. Say to yourself:

"If a chemical were safe, men would use it on their faces. Does my husband or father or brother—or any man I know—use a chemical on his daily growth of beard?"

Of course not. No man bathes his face in a strong chemical that devours hair. Nor should women sponge their forearms and underarms in corrosive chemicals.

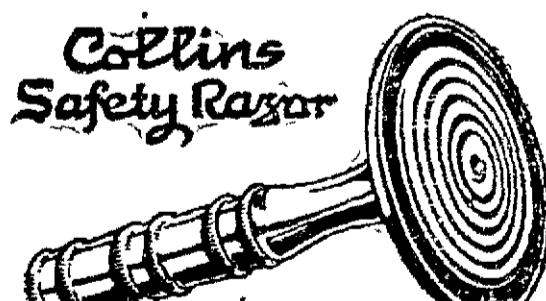

But what shall women do? She cannot allow her evening gowns and sheerest waists to reveal a downy state that is truly masculine, and thus destroy the feminine distinctiveness that is her chiefest charm.

The answer is in the Collins razor, which affords women a special convenience in addition to the safety and harmlessness that men have found in razors for thousands of years.

TUESDAY'S HERO — Babe Ruth. The swat king went up another step on his climb for a new record, when he pasted out one of Red Faber's shots over the grand stand for his 32nd home run. The Yanks won even, losing the first to the White Sox 7 to 5 and winning the second 6 to 3.

Bush scored from second base on a single in the 15th inning and the Tigers beat the Senators 7 to 6 in the first game and repeated 2 to 1 in the second session.

Zach Wheat made a shoestring catch and turned what looked like a run into a double play, enabling the Dodgers to beat the Reds 3 to 2.

George Sisler hit a homer in the eighth inning, giving the Browns a 5 to 4 victory over the Athletics. Jacobson's homer with two on put the Browns ahead in the sixth.

SNAPPED DURING THE INTERNATIONAL YACHT RACES

SHAMROCK LEADS IN RACES

BY HENRY L. FARRELL

NAVESSINE HIGHLANDS, N. J. — Hopes for a spanking breeze to make what might be the deciding race in America's cup series, a real test of yachts and seamanship, were dispelled early Wednesday. Not a breath of air was stirring at 8 a. m., nor did a blistering sun or a glassy sea promise any breeze later.

The crews of both racers have been itching for a real wind—a wind that would put half the deck awash, but it appeared Wednesday that after 69 years in this country, the America's cup was going back as a drifting trophy.

Shamrock, with her torn balloon jib mended and Resolute were in racing shape Wednesday morning. An hour's work sufficed to set up the rent in the challenger's canvas.

The crew of the Shamrock, still joyous of the victory of Tuesday, hoped to make it three straight Wednesday and take the cup back with them.

The victory of the Lipton yacht Tuesday was the first time since 1851, when the cup was brought to this country that a challenger was within striking distance of the trophy by winning two heats of the series.

Captain Adams and his crew believed they would be able to take Wednesday's race because of the Resolute's better pointing qualities. The race is a 15-mile beat to windward and return and the defender has shown a decided better ability to keep her nose to the wind. If the Shamrock, however, should make it three straight the New York Yacht Club was understood to be ready to hand a challenge to the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, under whose colors the Lipton boat is sailing, for a series of races for the cup to be sailed next year.

This would give the Americans the right to meet the cup holders before any other challengers. In that event the race would be sailed in Irish waters.

MOOSE FIELD DAY

All day next Sunday at McCullough Park old fashioned basket dinner. Contests, prizes, band concert.

Boston nicked Carter for three runs in the first round, but Claude Hendrix stopped them and the Cubs won the game and the series 9 to 4.

LIMA TELEPHONES ATTRACTING

Cleveland Committee to Come August 10; System Grows?

A committee from the public utility department, Cleveland, will come to Lima August 10, to inspect the auto manual telephone system at the Lima Telephone Company. The Cleveland Telephone Company has been dissatisfied for some time with the system in that city, and are desirous of installing a better regulated system.

They will visit Lima, and later inspect the automatic systems in several eastern cities before making their report.

In many of the larger cities principally New York, Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Louis thousands of persons are waiting to have phones installed, but will have to wait for months before their orders can be filled.

Lima is very fortunate in not having a waiting list, according to Manager George Netheany, of the Lima Telephone Company. The company has been able to care for all subscribers up to date, and are now working on the extension work which had to be lessened during the war period. The additional unit equipment for the Lima system is expected to arrive within the next few days.

When the new addition that is now in the course of construction is completed the latter part of September, the Lima Telephone Company will be one of the best in the country. The present number of subscribers is 11,936 and of that number 600 have been added since the first of the year.

PUTNAM CROPS FINE EXCEPT WHEAT; HARVEST PROBLEM BEING SOLVED

OTTAWA — The crops in Putnam-co are doing finely, except wheat, which is about a 50 per cent crop. It is mostly cut now. In some localities there is a shortage of coal to operate harvesting machinery. Threshing rings, of from 14 to 18 men solve the harvesting proposition. It takes one day to harvest the average wheat crop on the average farm, this season. Oats take longer. The hay crop is pretty fair. First crop out, and second one, this week. Corn and oats are growing wonderfully, since the recent rains. The price on wool is discouraging to the farmer, who considers it unfair. The price of woolen goods is as high or higher than ever. Prices on poultry and cattle, fair; potatoes advancing as the yield is small. Plums, peaches and apples good yield. The storm Sunday blew many apples from the trees. Eggs, high, going higher.

Levine had granted the newspaper a preliminary injunction against Smith and the chief was found guilty of contempt for failing to comply with the order of the court.

The Best Dollar

You have one dollar that is more valuable than your other dollars; it is the one you deposit in a savings account at five per cent interest.

This dollar grows larger while those you try to keep in your pocket grow smaller.

Then there is an attraction about your savings account dollar that draws other dollars to it. It gives you a desire to put others with it to keep it company and let all grow together.

Your money deposited in this way is not withdrawn from circulation, but is loaned upon real estate and helps someone buy or build a home.

Try the plan. The Allen County Savings and Loan Company welcome new savings accounts whether the amounts be large or small.

POOR COAL PROVES HINDRANCE

Hampers Operation of Pumps at Water Reservoirs

The work of keeping the city water works reservoirs filled is being hampered by poor coal at the pump station, Service Director McClain stated Wednesday, commenting on the fact that while coal is increasingly difficult to obtain, the price is high and the quality the worst ever experienced.

"We are compelled to pay from $3.51 to $7.50 per ton for run of mine coal," Mr. McClain said. "At Springfield, Tuesday, I was informed that the city is paying $5 to $12 per ton. The poor grade of coal clogs the grates in the firebox under the boilers with clinkers and the boilers cool when the fires are pulled to permit the grates being cleared. This interferes with the operation of motors at pumping stations and delays water pumping."

It is estimated that there is at the present time 550,000,000 gallons of water in the three city reservoirs, of which the billion gallon reservoir carries 92,000,000 gallons. It is impossible to store more water in the new reservoir, due to the fact that ripraping of the banks is proceeding slowly. From 10 to 15 men are employed on the riprap job, but 100 or more ought to be employed, Mr. McClain said, and the work hurried to completion.

From 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 gallons of water is consumed daily in this city. Last week the total was $2 1-2 millions. During the past several weeks the consumption has ranged from 28,000,000 to 36,000,000. Lima Lake is carrying only 13 per cent of its storage water capacity, the Service director stated, due to leakage, evaporation and poor coal which makes steady operation of the pumping plant impossible.

GERMAN ROYALTY AT EX-PRINCE'S FUNERAL

POTSDAM, Germany.—(By United Press.) — Hundreds of members of the old imperial German regime were present at funeral services for Prince Joachim, held at a little Evangelical church here Tuesday. Among those who stood with bowed heads as three preachers recited rites for the dead, were Generals Von Hindenburg, Ludendorff, Mehrbach and Oldenburg.

Prince and Princess Eitel Friedrich, Princes August Wilhelm and Albrecht of Reuss, and Albert of Schleswig, represented German royalty at the ceremony.

Cox Says He is Ready for Work

He Is No Longer Nervous, and Is Sleeping Fine and Feeling Better Than for Some Time Past Since He Began Taking Nerv-Worth

"For some time back, I have been troubled with sleeplessness and consequent nervous debility and stomach trouble," said Wm. Cox, R. D. S., Washington, Pa. "Some nights I could not get more than 2 hours sleep, and as a result, did not get proper rest. I didn't feel like working and I had considerable trouble with indigestion, gas and sour stomach. Nerv-Worth was recommended to me, and I tried a bottle with good results. I have been using it steadily since, and it has done me a world of good. I can sleep all night long, and get up feeling rested and ready for work. My stomach trouble and nervousness have gone and altogether, I feel stronger and heartier than ever before. I can recommend Nerv-Worth to any one who is troubled similarly to what I was." This man's case is typical to the cases in which Nerv-Worth for many years has been giving such startling results. It has been found that nervous troubles and stomach disorders usually go hand in hand. Nerv-Worth scientifically treats such cases because it acts jointly on the two troubles. If you suffer from nervous troubles, sleeplessness, indigestion, gas on the stomach, or any of their attending ills, you will find that Nerv-Worth will help you. It neutralizes excess acids, stops gas formation, whets the appetite, drives out impurities, aids nerve force, and sound restful sleep, and at the same time acts as a tonic and builds and invigorates the whole system. If your stomach and nerves are in bad condition, your vital organs will not function as they should, and the result is that you do not feel right, your system becomes run down and you are an easy prey for numerous ills. Enjoy life by feeling right. Take Nerv-Worth, the remedy that for many years has been the stand by in millions of homes. It is sold on a money back guarantee, and if your first trial bottle is not satisfactory, your money will be refunded. Sold on a money back guarantee by Hunter's Drug Stores and all leading druggists everywhere.

TOURISTS SWARM LAKE RESORTS

Higher Rates Seem to Have No Effect on Traffic

CLEVELAND, O.—Travel on the great lakes this summer is surpassing all previous records. Dozens of steamers, jammed to the gunwales with tourists, ply their way up and down across the lakes to scores of islands, beaches and summer resorts, most of them already awash with cottagers and those on vacation bent.

By the end of the rather brief lake travel season, close to 500,000 persons will have answered to the lure of the lake, according to H. A. Semler, manager of the Akers, Folkman, Lawrence company, water travel agents here. His figures are based on the number of lake steamers available, their capacity and the reasonable cost of lake tours.

Semler attributes the present great popularity of the lakes to the increased earnings of the average person, the overcrowding of ocean liners, deferred vacations, a natural swing from land to lake resorts and the attractiveness, comforts and reasonable cost of lake tours.

INFANT DIES

Joseph Louis Brady, five-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Brady, died at the home of an aunt, Mrs. Flinck, 1209 S. Main-st. Tuesday night. The parents had been in Lima only a few days. Services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. John's Catholic church. Interment was in Gethsemani.

spent their moments of leisure and recreation in the mountains or at the seashore, are clamoring at the various lake ports for steamer accommodations.

Special lake trips are widely popular. Trips of from one to two weeks in length are attracting the greatest number. The cost of travel has gone up about 25 per cent over last year. A week's trip can be made at a trifle over an average of $18 per day per person.

Several companies offer a week's tour of the lakes for $72.50 per person. Their boats touch a dozen ports, with brief stopovers at points notable for their historical or recreational attractions. One Canadian line offers a trip 1,000 miles in length, with stops at the principal Canadian cities on the lakes. Another specializes in trips of 1,600 miles.

Semler attributes the present great popularity of the lakes to the increased earnings of the average person, the overcrowding of ocean liners, deferred vacations, a natural swing from land to lake resorts and the attractiveness, comforts and reasonable cost of lake tours.

MILLIONS LOST IF GAS STOPS

Sure Relief

Evidence in West Va. Hearing Shows Real Situation

COLUMBUS — The more than 4,000,000 consumers of natural gas in Ohio would be caused financial loss of from $100 to $150 each by enforcement of the West Virginia "Steptoe" act and consequent curtailment or cutting off of the gas now received in Ohio from that state.

L. D. Denning, Pittsburgh, vice-president of the Ohio Fuel Supply Company, made this statement here Wednesday morning, testifying in the hearing of the injunction suit brought by Ohio and Pennsylvania against West Virginia to prevent enforcement of the "Steptoe" act. The loss to consumers aside from inconvenience, Mr. Denning stated, would result from having to remodel or "junk" their present gas fixtures and appliances.

Distributing systems in towns which would lose their gas supply by cutting off the West Virginia gas, he said, would be reduced to its junk value.

The cost of attempting to store natural gas in summer for reserve to be used in winter, he testified, would be "hopelessly prohibitive." The hearing in Columbus will probably last thru the week, it was said Wednesday.

WEST MARKET AT ELIZABETH

The general committee of the City Federation of Women's clubs met Tuesday afternoon at the Public Library with representatives from fifteen clubs in attendance.

The recent milk show at the Memorial Hall put on by the Home Economic department, Miss Pauline Hyman, chairman, cleared $76.72. There was the sum of $17.12 to be turned over to each of the following organizations: the Day Nursery, Mrs. Frank Baxter president; The Child Welfare Association, Dr. Josephine Pierce, president; Central High school Welfare Association, Mileen Williams, president; South High school Girls' Welfare Club, Tirza McKinnon, president. The money is to be used to help buy milk for children who are attending it.

Subscriptions amounting to one thousand dollars were secured from citizens, of which seven hundred and ninety dollars has been paid in. The landscape gardener and assistants have been paid for the work up to the present time and never in the history of the City Park has it been more beautiful with the beds of constantly blooming plants, the flower bordered paths and vine-covered bridge. The committee gave Mrs. Starrett a vote of thanks for her untiring efforts. She also reported that in October shrubs and hardy plants are to be placed about the Park grounds to become a large part of the adornments in years to come and that a tablet bearing the donor's name had been placed in a conspicuous position on the west side of the shelter trees.

A wonderful outgrowth of this movement to beautify the city is a much needed Bridle path, which is to be made on the part of the Park that is east of Charles-st and at present used as a driving grounds. Flowers will border this and roses have already been placed along the protection fence here, the street extends to Lakewood ave.

Miss Ruby Wentz, presiding at the organ announced the arrival of the bridal party with the soft strains of "Humoresque" by Antonio Dvorak. Mrs. Michael Kaniner sang "O Promise Me," preceding the ceremony, which was read by Rev. Motter. Then the bridal party headed by Little Donny Wentz carrying a "Hill" in which was concealed the ring, entered the church while Miss Wentz played Lohengrin's wedding march.

Miss Ruth Howell was the maid of honor and the bridegroom was attended by an intimate friend, John Kohl.

The bride was attired in a gown of white georgette with a veil of tulio caught with band of pearls. She carried a sheaf of bride's roses. Miss Howell wore pale blue organdie and carried pink roses.

NOVEL FROCK SEEN
AT FRENCH RACES

BY ELOISE

The racing season in France always contributes any number of novel and unusual fashions to the woman who goes in for extremes. All of the well known modistes of the Paris boulevards send their mannequins to attend the races and they are by no means the least of the attractions at these festive affairs with their startling styles and painted checks. Many of our American designers get ideas from these exhibitions at the races just as many of our small dressmakers get ideas from the theatrical productions they see.

This pretty Parisian who is wearing an afternoon frock of dark tricotine was snapped at the races recently. The blouse is a simple affair made in kimono style while the skirt looks like a small apron, the two sides being left open and fitted in with lighter material. The most unique part of the whole frock is the panel which trim the blouse and skirt. It is made of filet lace after the fashion of the woollen sweaters. The lighter material shows thru this lace with a very pleasing effect. The short skirt marks the frock as Parisian as no other feature could. Note the little tam shaped hat with its curled ostrich feather drooping down over the ear and cheek.

Mrs. Paul Davis and Miss Louise Feiser will entertain with a tea at the Hotel Norval on Monday afternoon. More than eighty five invitations have been issued and it is expected to be one of the largest affairs of the coming week.

The Ladies Aid society of the St. Paul Lutheran church will entertain with a social Wednesday evening at the suburban home of Mrs. L. S. Brower. There will be automobiles at the St. Paul Lutheran church to convey the guests to the affair.

Mrs. Robert Mitchell, and daughter, Catharine and Eileen, Los Angeles, Cal., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, 627 S. Central-ave.

Miss Catherine Squire, Chicago, who has been the guest of Miss Margaret Mohaffey, N. Charles-st, for several weeks, returned to her home Wednesday.

One of the largest social events of the season will be held at the Shawnee Country Club Thursday afternoon when the golfers will play a two ball, mixed foursome at 1 o'clock. Following the game dinner will be served by the losing team.

More than thirty golfers are expected to participate.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Alligire were tendered a most delightful surprise Tuesday evening at the P. A. Kahle home, W. Market-st, where they are making their home, by a group of the members of the Wayfarer's club. Mr. Alligire has for a number of years been a member of the organization. Cards were enjoyed throughout the evening and later an elaborate buffet luncheon was served.

Those enjoying the affair were: Harry Strasburg, Roy Jones, Donald Johns, Arthur Horrell, Jean Neely, Francis Clark, Warren Baslinger, Fred Curran, William Snyder, Paul Clark, Walker Tharp, Raymond Fisher, Valn Sullivan, Russell Cox and Richard Jenkins.
